As a highly motivated, consistent, and open-minded student of Bachelor Degree of Political Science, I seek a career in which I can not only be able to use my knowledge about the world, politics, and societies, but also expand it. By living in Different countries, I learned how to interact with different people from different backgrounds and work in stressful and time-pressuring conditions. As an empathic altruistic person, I want to show the truth and reality about every situation happening.
